

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

Day-to-day fire-fighting, endless meetings, and piling on work is not sustainable. It also takes away from your ability to reach your full potential, and be fully present at home.

Work and well-being don't need to be on the opposite ends of a spectrum. In fact, how someone experiences their workload has a stronger influence on burnout than how many hours they work (Gallup, 2022). The quality of a work experience has 2.5-3x the impact on the number of days worked! In brief, while the quantity of work certainly matters – the quality matters more when it comes to well-being.

Meaningful work adds to a fulfilling life – the Work Balance Matrix, offered through our workshops, helps you do more of what you love – both at work and at home. We refer to this as 'career well-being' – liking what you do every day (Gallup, 2022).

During the workshop, a workplace well-being expert will share a game-changing tool, the Work Balance Matrix, to bring balance into your life while aligning your work with your career aspirations. People managers who have their team use the Matrix gain insight into their team's career interests and risk of burnout, while better aligning their team's work to organizational priorities.
